"Jes' Temptation," Says Man Accused of Theft of Gold Watch and Fob.

"Jes' temptation," was the explanation Clarence Lorenson, negro dock wallop at the New Haven piers, gave before being taken to-day to Morrisania Police Court to explain "how come" he took a gold watch and fob value at $25 from the vest which John Morrell, a New Haven Railroad tug engineer, had hung in the tug's engine room.

Detective Buddenweber said he found the pawn tickets, showing that the watch and fob had been pawned for $25, in Clarence's possession. Clarence was asked if he hadn't known that Morrell's son is a detective and he replied in part: "Man, no! That how come you so active, 'er I knowed that, ole temptation never even see me."

Over-Efficient Device Cuts Off All Current When Shift Was Needed.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit transportation was practically suspended from 1:30 to-day until 1:45 by the cutting off of current from the Tenth Avenue power house which supplies all the elevated, subway and surface lines on the north side of Brooklyn. An effort to give lines in the north power from the other part of the city only resulted in failure to give enough current anywhere to keep cars moving.

The trouble was attributed to the over efficiency of a safety device in the power house, which property should have stopped one turbine engine when its machinery became disarranged but actually put them all out of commission.

Is that all you need to know?

Corsets—

$3.50

$4.00

Warner's Double Skirt Corsets are made with a thin interlining of strong batiste from the waist-line down:

It is around the hips where the greatest strain comes upon any corset. How strong the corset is in that spot is a good test of its worth.

The "double skirt" prevents any possibility of the corset stretching, ripping or tearing around the hips.

You should wear a Warner Corset. They wear long and serve well and cost little! Other models priced from $2.50 to $8.85.
